

Trade82 Sourcing and Transaction Support Service Terms

Article 1. Purpose

These Sourcing and Transaction Support Service Terms govern the use of the B2B sourcing support, seller-buyer connection, inquiry forwarding, transaction communication, deal-status, document upload, and related support services provided by Trade82 LLC or its operating entity (“Company,” “Trade82,” “we,” “us,” or “our”) through the Trade82 website and related online services.

The Service is designed to help Korean sellers and American buyers discover each other and communicate regarding potential business opportunities. Unless expressly stated otherwise, Trade82 is not a party to transactions between sellers and buyers.

Article 2. Definitions

For purposes of these Terms, the following terms have the meanings set forth below.

1. “Trade82 Service” means the B2B marketplace, company profiles, product listings, buyer requirements, inquiry tools, messaging tools, deal-status features, review features, and other related online services provided by Trade82.
2. “Member” means an individual or business entity that agrees to the Trade82 Terms of Service and uses the Trade82 Service.
3. “Seller” means a Korean product supplier, manufacturer, distributor, brand owner, exporter, or other business user that registers company information, product information, or supply-related information through the Trade82 Service or seeks business opportunities with American buyers.
4. “Buyer” means a U.S.-based purchaser, importer, distributor, retailer, online seller, brand, or other business user that uses the Trade82 Service to find Korean products or Korean sellers.
5. “Sourcing Request” means a request made by a Buyer regarding specific products, categories, order size, lead time, required documents, payment terms, or other purchasing requirements.
6. “Transaction Support” means the support provided by Trade82 for seller-buyer communication, including inquiry forwarding, messaging, deal-status tracking, submitted document upload, platform notices, completed-deal reviews, and other communication-related features.
7. “Submitted Documents” means company documents, product-related documents, contract-related files, or other materials uploaded by a Member in connection with a company profile, sourcing request, transaction discussion, or Transaction Support.

Article 3. Provision of Service

Trade82 may provide Members with the following services:

1. Korean Seller company and product profile registration;
2. American Buyer company and sourcing requirement profile registration;
3. inquiry and messaging tools between Sellers and Buyers;
4. company follow and product save features;
5. information forwarding for sourcing requests and potential business opportunities;
6. deal-status features such as “Deal in progress,” “Completion requested,” and “Completed deal”;
7. review features based on completed deals or eligible inquiry relationships;
8. private upload features for Submitted Documents and contract-related files;
9. platform notices and admin messages from the Trade82 Team;
10. other features designed to support B2B sourcing and transaction communication.

Trade82 may modify, suspend, restrict, or discontinue all or part of the Service if necessary for operational, technical, security, legal, or business reasons.

Article 4. Sourcing Requests and Information Provided by Members

A Buyer may enter sourcing-related information through the Trade82 Service, including interested categories, target order size, import experience, sales channels, required documents, preferred payment terms, lead time, U.S. market strategy, and other purchasing requirements.

A Seller may enter product-related information through the Trade82 Service, including product name, product images, category, product description, minimum order quantity, lead time, supply conditions, export-related information, and other product details.

Members must ensure that the information they enter or submit is accurate, current, lawful, and not false or misleading.

Trade82 may display, transmit, or use information provided by Members within the scope necessary to operate the Service, provide Transaction Support, and facilitate business communication between relevant Members.

Trade82 does not guarantee the accuracy, completeness, legality, timeliness, or commercial feasibility of any company information, product information, sourcing requirements, Submitted Documents, messages, or other information provided by Members.

Article 5. Nature of Sourcing and Transaction Support

The Service is intended to help Sellers and Buyers discover business opportunities and communicate with each other.

Unless expressly stated otherwise, Trade82 does not directly provide the following services:

1. direct purchase of products;
2. payment processing on behalf of Members;

3. escrow or payment protection;
4. product inspection;
5. international shipping or customs brokerage;
6. import approval or product certification services;
7. payment settlement;
8. guarantee of contract performance;
9. guarantee of transaction completion.

Actual transaction terms between Sellers and Buyers are determined by the relevant transaction parties.

Article 6. Formation of Transactions

A transaction between a Seller and a Buyer is formed when the parties agree on material terms such as product, price, quantity, lead time, payment terms, shipping terms, customs responsibility, required documents, quality standards, and other transaction conditions.

Service statuses such as “Deal in progress,” “Completion requested,” or “Completed deal” are provided for platform recordkeeping and review eligibility purposes only. These statuses do not mean that Trade82 confirms or guarantees the legal formation, payment, delivery, customs clearance, product quality, or performance of any transaction.

Members are responsible for conducting their own contract review, legal review, tax review, product suitability review, payment-safety review, and export/import compliance review before entering into any transaction.

Article 7. Payment, Shipping, and Customs

Unless Trade82 separately provides payment, escrow, shipping, or customs features, payment, settlement, shipping, insurance, customs clearance, and taxes between Sellers and Buyers are handled directly by the transaction parties at their own responsibility.

Members are responsible for checking exportability, importability, customs duties, taxes, product certifications, labeling requirements, country-of-origin marking, customs requirements, import restrictions, and other applicable laws and regulations.

Trade82 does not guarantee that any product satisfies the export/import laws, customs regulations, product safety rules, labeling rules, or customs procedures of any country unless expressly stated otherwise.

If a Member attempts to engage in unlawful conduct, false customs declaration, false pricing declaration, prohibited product trading, sanctions-related transactions, or other improper transaction activity, Trade82 may restrict that Member’s use of the Service.

Article 8. Submitted Documents and Private Files

Members may upload documents necessary for transaction discussions, company profiles, company information review, internal operations, or dispute handling.

Submitted Documents may be made available only to administrators, relevant transaction parties, or other persons authorized by Trade82 within the scope necessary for service operation.

Members must not upload false documents, forged documents, unlawfully obtained documents, files containing malware, files that cannot be reviewed, or files that infringe the rights of any third party.

For security purposes, Trade82 may restrict access to Submitted Documents or provide temporary access links with limited expiration periods.

Article 9. Prohibited Products and Prohibited Conduct

Members must not use the Service in connection with any of the following products or transactions:

1. products prohibited from sale, export, import, or distribution under applicable law;
2. counterfeit goods, imitation goods, stolen goods, or unlawfully obtained goods;
3. weapons, explosives, hazardous materials, dangerous chemicals, or regulated goods;
4. narcotics, illegal drugs, prescription-only drugs, or restricted medical devices;
5. obscene materials, illegal content, or products infringing third-party rights;
6. products or transactions involving sanctioned countries, persons, entities, or activities;
7. products likely to cause serious issues with customs, transportation, payment, or legal compliance;
8. any other products Trade82 determines to be inappropriate under its service policies.

Members must not engage in false information submission, spam, phishing, fraud, fake orders, fake quotations, fake reviews, unlawful transaction solicitation, data scraping, automated access, security interference, or infringement of another Member's rights.

Article 10. Cancellation, Suspension, and Restrictions

Cancellation, return, refund, exchange, compensation, settlement, or damages relating to a transaction between a Seller and a Buyer are generally governed by the agreement between the transaction parties.

Because Trade82 is not a transaction party, Trade82 does not directly handle cancellation, return, refund, exchange, settlement, or compensation between Members unless expressly stated otherwise.

Trade82 may restrict inquiries, Transaction Support, messages, product display, company profile display, or account access in any of the following cases:

1. a Member provides false or misleading information;
2. unlawful or inappropriate transaction activity is suspected;
3. sanctions-related activity or prohibited product activity is suspected;
4. a Member infringes another Member's rights or disrupts the Service;
5. restriction is necessary for security reasons;
6. a Member violates applicable law, these Terms, or Trade82's service policies.

Article 11. Reviews

Trade82 may provide a review feature for completed deals or inquiry relationships that satisfy Trade82's review criteria.

Members must write reviews based on actual transaction or inquiry experiences.

Fake reviews, paid reviews without appropriate disclosure, malicious reviews, reviews disclosing personal information, reviews disclosing trade secrets, discriminatory content, or reviews violating applicable law may be restricted, hidden, or removed.

Reviews reflect the subjective experience of the reviewer and do not mean that Trade82 guarantees any Member, company, product, or transaction result.

Article 12. Scope of Trade82's Responsibility

Trade82 provides a platform that helps Korean Sellers and American Buyers discover and contact each other.

Unless expressly stated otherwise, Trade82 is not a transaction party, agent, guarantor, payment processor, carrier, customs broker, importer of record, or product inspector for transactions between Members.

To the maximum extent permitted by applicable law, Trade82 is not liable for Member-to-Member transactions, contracts, payments, shipping, customs clearance, product quality, Submitted Documents, reviews, disputes, damages, or losses unless caused by Trade82's intentional misconduct or gross negligence.

Trade82 may review relevant records or take actions such as account restriction, content hiding, profile visibility changes, or other measures to the extent necessary for service operation, security, dispute handling, or Member protection.

Article 13. Priority of These Terms

These Terms may apply as special terms for sourcing and Transaction Support services under the general Trade82 Terms of Service.

Matters not addressed in these Terms are governed by the Trade82 Terms of Service, Privacy Policy, service policies, and applicable law.

If these Terms conflict with the general Trade82 Terms of Service regarding sourcing or Transaction Support services, these Terms will prevail with respect to those matters.

Supplementary Provision

These Terms are effective as of 2026 June 27.